Subject: Online sessions for Educators in July/August 2021 on Rethinking Ethics through Hypertext

Application Link: See table below

Deadline: See table below

The Institute for Education is offering educators the opportunity to join free online sessions on Rethinking Ethics through Hypertext.

The key speaker for these sessions is Dr Dominic Garcia who will explore the shortcomings of our traditional ways of handling ethical issues when it comes to judging whether actions are ‘right’ or ‘wrong’, ‘good’ or ‘bad’. Hypertextual discourse, writing in an unchronological way, is introduced as an alternative to the long-standing tradition of doing ethics. These sessions will also explore the possibility of combining expressive discourse of an ethical nature, with software that is programmed for such purpose.
